MISSION AND PURPOSES

In the spirit of service, not self, the mission of the American Legion Auxiliary is to support The American Legion and to honor the sacrifice of those who serve by enhancing the lives of our veterans, military, and their families, both at home and abroad. For God and Country, we advocate for veterans, educate our citizens, mentor youth, and promote patriotism, good citizenship, peace and security.

In fulfillment of our mission, the American Legion Auxiliary adheres to the following purposes:

★ To support and advocate for veterans, active military and their families
★ To support the initiatives and programs of The American Legion
★ To foster patriotism and responsible citizenship
★ To award scholarships and promote quality education and literacy
★ To provide educational and leadership opportunities that uphold the ideals of freedom and democracy and encourage good citizenship and patriotism in government
★ To increase our capacity to deliver our Mission by providing meaningful volunteer opportunities within our communities
★ To empower our membership to achieve personal fulfillment through “service not self”

The American Legion Auxiliary has one purpose — to contribute to the accomplishment of the aims and purposes of The American Legion. Our Preamble is nearly the same as The American Legion.

The American Legion Auxiliary does not establish any policy that conflicts with those of The American Legion. Its activities are designed to enhance The American Legion’s programs. Although often working independently on projects of its own, the Auxiliary has no purposes which are apart from the aims of The American Legion. It is in every sense an “Auxiliary” to The American Legion. Its members serve side-by-side with members of The American Legion in a spirit of unselfish devotion to the well-being of America.

The Pledge of Allegiance

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

PURPOSE OF HANDBOOK

Thank you for your interest in the American Legion Auxiliary Junior Activities program.

Junior Auxiliary members bring a vital energy and enthusiasm to our organization. We are members of one body, with one National President, though Honorary Junior officers are elected. As one body, we draw upon our strengths, share our experience and gather all our resources to help our country’s heroes and their families.

This guide is written to assist Auxiliary members who work with Juniors. Junior members are also invited to use the resources found here. As new resources are developed, they will be added to the Members Only area on the Auxiliary’s website at www.ALAforVeterans.org.

When the guide is updated as needed, any known corrections will be made, indicated by a revision date on the cover. Periodic updating of the guide is planned every 3-5 years. Please direct any questions to JuniorActivities@ALAforVeterans.org.

FOREWORD

This book has been prepared in compliance with the following resolution adopted at the National Convention in New York, September 1937: “That the National Organization compile a handbook consisting of information dealing with the eligibility, organization, procedure, simplified meeting and instructions for the formation and functioning of Junior membership groups and that this handbook be distributed at the earliest possible moment for department and unit use.”

The Junior Activities Handbook contains details for organizing and directing a program for Junior members as well as information on eligibility, meetings, programs, prayers and ceremonies for initiation, installation and graduation. Junior members are encouraged to use this handbook as a resource to become knowledgeable American Legion Auxiliary members.

The purpose of the Junior Activities committee is to interest eligible young women (under the age of 18) in continuing their membership as a senior member through the positive experience of mission-based volunteering that instills the ideals of the organization.

PREAMBLE

For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes:

To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred percent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our associations during the Great Wars; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and goodwill on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom, and democracy; to participate in and contribute to the accomplishment of the aims and purposes of The American Legion; to consecrate and sanctify our association by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.

Organization

The goal of the Junior Activities program is to encourage Juniors to continue their participation into senior membership.

Success of the Junior Activities program is largely dependent on the leadership provided by the unit. Juniors are not a separate organization, but are under the guidance of an advisor (Junior Activities chairman) and a committee of unit members.

Juniors conduct their own meetings, carry out their own activities, and are highly encouraged to participate in unit meetings and activities. The Junior officers are honorary in title. Their work should be coordinated with the work of unit officers.
Americanism should be a major focus in order to teach patriotism, citizenship and loyalty to America. There are many teaching tools available to help instruct a variety of ages in Americanism (see Resources: Publications in this handbook). Unit activities should encourage Junior participation.

Membership Eligibility

Juniors Members of the American Legion Auxiliary are a special classification of members under the age of 18. Upon reaching age 18, Junior members are automatically transitioned to the Senior Members classification of membership (adult members); however, an Auxiliary member under the age of 18 who is married shall be classified as a senior member. Members attaining senior membership status have full senior membership privileges.

Eligibility for membership in the American Legion Auxiliary is as defined in the American Legion Auxiliary Constitution & Bylaws. Membership eligibility includes the grandmothers, sisters, wives, mothers and direct descendants of veterans of the U.S. military who served during times of declared wars and conflicts, as defined by The American Legion’s federal charter approved by Congress. Any changes to Legion membership eligibility require an Act of Congress.

Eligibility guidelines for membership in The American Legion may be found at the Legion’s national website, www.legion.org; the periods of wartime eligibility for Legion membership are:

- Daughters, granddaughters, great-granddaughters and sisters of all men and women who were in the Armed Forces of the United States during any of the following wartime periods:
  - World War I: April 6, 1917 to November 11, 1918
  - World War II: December 7, 1941 to December 31, 1946
  - Korean War: June 25, 1950 to January 31, 1955
  - Lebanon/Grenada: August 24, 1982 to July 31, 1984
  - Panama: December 20, 1989 to January 31, 1990
  - Gulf War/War on Terrorism: August 2, 1990, to, and including, the date which the United States government shall determine to be the end of hostilities, all dates inclusive;
  - And who, being citizens of the United States at the time of their entry into active duty in the Armed Forces of any of said wartime periods, died in line of duty or after honorable discharge.

For more information about eligibility, please refer to your department and American Legion Auxiliary governing documents. Auxiliary membership forms may be found on the Auxiliary’s national website www.ALAforVeterans.org.

Dues

Dues for Juniors are payable each year. Junior members do not receive a renewal notice from National Headquarters. Funds generated from the collection of Junior dues are handled by the senior unit treasurer. The amount of the Junior dues is to be set by the senior unit. This amount must include both department and national dues.

Finance

Revenue from Junior fundraising activities should be carried as a separate line item in the senior unit treasurer’s book. All Junior projects requiring expenditure of funds must first be approved by the senior unit. The Junior treasurer should keep a record of all expenditures. Upon completion of an approved project, the bill for expenses should be presented to the senior treasurer for payment.
JUNIOR OFFICERS

Description
At the unit level, honorary Junior officers traditionally include president, vice president, chaplain, historian, secretary, treasurer and sergeant-at-arms. Honorary Junior officers may vary by department but are likely to reflect the structure of the unit.

During the National Executive Committee Meeting held February 25, 2012, a resolution passed stating Honorary National Junior officers carry courtesy titles bestowed by the American Legion Auxiliary. Any Honorary National Junior officer elected is solely an honorary, courtesy position without any formal recognition and with no official or formal duties. She shall not travel as a representative of the national American Legion Auxiliary nor conduct fundraising for Junior election campaigns or related activities benefiting an Honorary National Junior Officer or candidate. It was also resolved that any Junior elected to serve as an Honorary Junior Officer must be paying dues as a Junior member for the membership year in which she is installed.

Pins
Junior member pin attachments affix to the American Legion Auxiliary officer badge and are available through Emblem Sales’ website by visiting www.emblem.legion.org. Official pins are available through Emblem Sales for current and past unit, county, district and department Junior officers.

YOUTH PROGRAMS

Patch Program
Participating in the patch program gives Junior members the opportunity to increase their knowledge of patriotism, citizenship, leadership, health and fitness. Juniors can be involved with the patch program as a group or as an individual.

There are several levels in the patch program, grouped according to grade in school. These groups include kindergarten through third grade, fourth through eighth grade, and ninth through 12th grade (or 18 years of age).

When the required activities for a patch are completed, a senior member must sign the form to verify a Junior has met the criteria for the patch. The completed form should be submitted to the department Junior Activities chairman. The department chairman will complete the request form for patches and send to National Headquarters. The due date for the current year’s patches is June 1st. Additional information on the patch program can be found in the Junior Activities Plan of Action on the Auxiliary website at www.ALAforVeterans.org.

VolunTeens/Student Volunteers
A VolunTeen is a volunteer who is under the age of 18 and a Junior member of the American Legion Auxiliary, Sons of The American Legion or unaffiliated with an organization. This program was created with a resolution by the American Legion Auxiliary in 1959. This program is not affiliated with VolunTeensTM.

Participants can volunteer at a VA Medical Center (typically age 15+) or work with a senior member in field service (age 7+). Guidelines for these volunteer opportunities are outlined in the Veterans Affairs & Rehabilitation (VA&R) Guide, available through your department headquarters or online at www.ALAforVeterans.org.

VolunTeens who meet the requirements can apply for the American Legion Auxiliary Junior VolunTeen Scholarship (see Opportunities for Juniors: Scholarships in this handbook) or the James H. Parke Memorial Scholarship, which is awarded by the Department of Veterans Affairs. For more information on the Parke Scholarship, visit volunteer.va.gov/ParkeScholarship.asp.
AWARDS
For a complete description of all awards available to Juniors, see the Junior Activities section of the Plan of Action at www.ALAforVeterans.org.

NATIONAL JUNIOR MEETINGS
National Junior meetings for members age 8-17 are held in various locations across the country in conjunction with Mission Training. At these Saturday-only meetings, Juniors share ideas and have fun while learning about the American Legion Auxiliary mission. Juniors may attend a meeting in any division, not just in the division of their membership. All Junior members who meet registration requirements are invited and encouraged to attend.

NATIONAL JUNIOR OFFICERS
Juniors who attend a national Junior meeting will have the opportunity to register to vote and/or run for Honorary National Junior Division Vice President. Elections will be held electronically, and Junior candidates' parents/guardians must sign a consent form. More information on how and when elections will take place will be posted on the ALA website and ALA social media channels.

CHAIRMEN FOR JUNIOR ACTIVITIES
Description
The Junior Activities chairman is a senior member of the unit selected for her rapport with youth of all ages and for her creativity and energy. It is suggested that the Junior Activities chairman recruit additional members to serve as helpers so the needs of each age category will be met. To facilitate age-appropriate activities, it is suggested that a large group be divided into age groups that correlate with the patch program age groups.

Suggested Activities
As the future leaders of our organization, Juniors should learn protocol and Auxiliary traditions. Emphasis should be placed on engaging all members while making meetings meaningful and fun.

Create an email and phone list of Juniors who can participate in events. Invite them to a meeting using email, social media, text messages or phone calls.

Keep in mind younger children have very short attention spans and require short, varied activities and breaks for physical activity. Aim for fun rather than formality in meetings and activities with this age group.

While there is no official uniform, it is recommended Juniors wear an American Legion Auxiliary emblem T-shirt during service activities. These T-shirts are available through American Legion Flag & Emblem Sales at www.emblem.legion.org.

Take pictures of your events and publish them in your unit newsletter. Please have a parent or guardian’s written permission before posting pictures or names online or publishing pictures of any Junior member. The publishing of activities through various media types will help promote Auxiliary presence in the community, encourage membership, and inspire other ideas for service projects.

The following are a few suggested activities:

- Conduct a workshop on flag etiquette.
- Participate in the Veterans History Project (for Juniors 10th grade and above). www.loc.gov/vets
- Partner with a school to conduct Kids Voting USA® programs. www.kidsvotingusa.org
- Participate in Martin Luther King Jr. Day of Service (January).
- To find guides for service activities on MLK Day, go to www.ALAforVeterans.org.
- Promote American Legion Auxiliary scholarships at schools.
• Collect school supplies for local schools or military kids.
• For a guide on “How to Organize a School Supply Drive,” go to www.ALAforVeterans.org.
• Volunteer in VA Medical Centers, field or home service projects.
• Collect items for members of the community who are in need (i.e., food drive for homeless veterans).
• Present programs at schools on the American flag or the Pledge of Allegiance.
• Educate others about the American Legion Auxiliary.
• Make presentations on legislative issues; have your Juniors be a source of knowledge for veterans’ issues.
• Participate in send-off and welcome home events for service members.
• For a guide on “How to Plan a Send Off or Welcome Home Event,” go to www.ALAforVeterans.org.
• Learn the history of the poppy and its significance to The American Legion Family and veterans.
• Distribute poppies.
• Make and distribute holiday cards to veterans.
• Adopt a veteran or military family and volunteer to run errands, babysit, mow the lawn or clean their house.
• Fundraise/collect items to assemble care packages to be sent to deployed servicemembers.
• Make “cookie packs.”
• Participate in ALA Christmas Gift Shops at the local Veterans Affairs medical center by shopping and wrapping gifts for military, veterans and their families.
• Promote technology and educate others in its use to include your senior Auxiliary members.
• Volunteer at a local VA hospital. Become a VA&R student volunteer.
• Reach out to military children in schools. With the help of a school counselor or principal, pair up with a military child who might be struggling or need a friend.

Certificates
A certificate for Junior member graduation is available at www.ALAforVeterans.org.

Emblem Usage
The emblem of the American Legion Auxiliary is a badge of distinction and honor. It stands for God and country and the highest rights of man. It consists of several parts, and each part has a meaning. The rays of the sun that form the background stand for the principles of the American Legion Auxiliary: loyalty, justice, freedom and democracy; dispelling the darkness of violence, strife and evil. The unbroken circle of blue represents unity and loyalty. The field of white exemplifies the hope of freedom. The star of blue is the emblem of service in war; it is no less the emblem of service in time of peace.

The emblem of the American Legion Auxiliary is the emblem of Americanism. As members, we must preach and teach principles of Americanism. Let us not forget that to each generation comes its patriotic duty and that upon that rests the hope of the nation.

The American Legion Auxiliary emblem is fully copyrighted and patented in the name of the national organization. The use of the emblem by an individual Auxiliary member is limited to the wearing of the official insignia and to the possession of authorized jewelry or merchandise bearing the insignia. Units are confined to using the emblem or a reproduction of the emblem on stationery, unit publications, notices, posters, place cards or items of similar character used in the ordinary routine and conduct of legitimate unit business. Departments are similarly limited. Any other use of the name “American Legion Auxiliary” or the emblem shall be subject to the approval of the department secretary and the national secretary.

These restrictions apply equally to the emblems of The American Legion, the Sons of The American Legion, and American Legion Riders. For more information, visit The American Legion’s website at www.legion.org/emblem.

JUNIOR LEADERSHIP TRAINING COURSE

To help your Juniors better understand American Legion Auxiliary programs, it is suggested you conduct the National Junior Leadership Course (available at www.ALAforVeterans.org). This course will also provide information on basic protocol and parliamentary procedure. The focus should be on fun, information, education, inspiration, pride in the organization and instilling a desire to continue their membership as senior members.

Recommended Tools for Conducting the Junior Leadership Course

1. Junior Activities Handbook
2. Unit Guide Book (available in Members Only area of www.ALAforVeterans.org or available for purchase from Emblem Sales at www.emblem.legion.org).
3. National Junior Leadership Course (available under Members Only area of www.ALAforVeterans.org). Other publications are available online at www.ALAforVeterans.org.

Conducting the Course

The following steps are suggested when conducting the National Junior Leadership Course:

1. Select a senior member to conduct the course. An assistant also may be selected.
2. Establish a time and place.

Suggested Guidelines for Course Sessions

1. Participants should attend every session in order to receive recognition for course completion.
2. Any recognition for course completion will be on the unit level unless otherwise directed by the department.

Responsibilities

The instructor will be responsible for:

1. All plans for leadership course.
2. Determination of materials needed, including copying of the material. Make sure there are enough copies for each attendant.
3. Time/place arrangements.
4. Certificates of attendance or other types of recognition for completion of the course.
MENTORING
Mentoring engages Junior members and encourages continuation into senior membership. Juniors are encouraged to participate in two types of mentoring:

1. Senior members mentoring Junior members.
2. More experienced Junior members mentoring less experienced members.

Senior Mentors
For senior mentorship, ask members if they are interested in mentoring a Junior. The senior member in charge of mentoring may wish to pair Juniors with mentors based on career or hobby interests.

It is suggested that Juniors sit with their senior mentors so they can ask questions on issues or meeting processes during unit meetings. For Juniors interested in officer positions, pair them with senior officers in order to study the duties and responsibilities of that office. If either party expresses dissatisfaction with the arrangement, re-assign them.

Junior Mentors
Junior mentorship provides guidance and camaraderie when a less experienced Junior may be overwhelmed with Auxiliary processes or needs social support. A Junior may be more likely to attend activities and meetings if she has a mentor. The mentee may be paired with a more experienced Junior by matching hobby, favorite school subject or career interests.

Juniors also can mentor senior members by sharing their needs, interests and activities within the Junior program. One great way to do this is by helping a senior member with technology questions.

BACKGROUND SCREENING
As a program that primarily serves minors, it is extremely important that your American Legion Auxiliary Juniors Activities Program has a background screening process that covers any volunteers working with minors.

National Headquarters staff does background checks on national committee members and volunteers who work with American Legion Auxiliary Girls Nation. In addition to conducting hiring screenings, National Headquarters’ Human Resources Division conducts background checks on all staff members who spend a significant amount of time at those programs.

If a background check reveals anything that gives a program leader cause for concern about an individual, that individual should not participate unless the cause for concern is resolved. If the cause for concern is of a nature that cannot be resolved or ignored, then that individual cannot participate.

There is no one law that covers whether background checks are required for employees or volunteers or states how extensive those background checks must be; instead, there is an overlay of federal and state laws. You should also remember that there can be both civil and criminal liability for failing to conduct background screenings. Some states may require screening for employees but not volunteers; other states may require them for both employees and volunteers.

Organizations that primarily serve children are often held to the strictest standards in regard to background screening, and you should be aware of which laws apply to your program. Even if there are legal requirements or only limited requirements for background screening, there are other compelling reasons for mandatory screens:

• Protecting a vulnerable population
• Avoiding public backlash
• Reassuring donors
• Limiting liability

American Legion Auxiliary National Headquarters I 8945 N. Meridian St. I Indianapolis, IN 46260
Phone (317) 569-4500 I Fax (317) 569-4502 I www.ALAforVeterans.org
Applicants’ backgrounds may be screened in a variety of ways, and your state department should approve your policy. A typical policy would include requiring a national criminal history check, a sex offender registry check, and a Social Security check. If the person would be transporting minors by motor vehicle, a screening check with your state department of motor vehicles is recommended. Numerous reputable companies provide background checks, often at a reduced rate for nonprofits. Some nonprofits ask potential volunteers to provide personal references. If you use a third-party screener, it might require you to obtain the potential volunteer’s written consent before conducting the search, and it is often good policy to let the volunteer know they will be screened. The results of background checks should be kept confidential, to avoid leaking personal information about the employee or volunteer.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR JUNIORS

ALA Girls State & ALA Girls Nation

American Legion Auxiliary Girls State provides an opportunity for all young women, not just Auxiliary members, who have completed their junior year of high school to experience state government processes. A self-governing mock-state, young women elect their own leaders, write bills for debate, and run a legislative session.

Two participants from each department Girls State session are selected to attend American Legion Auxiliary Girls Nation in Washington, D.C. Mock caucusing and debating of bills educate young women in federal legislative processes. Registration fees for both programs are usually paid for by the American Legion Auxiliary. For more information, visit:

www.boysandgirlsstate.org

Contests

American Legion Auxiliary contests include the Americanism Essay, Poppy Poster and Miss Poppy. Contest guidelines, themes, and applications for the current year can be found in the relevant program section in the Plan of Action at www.ALAforVeterans.org.

COMPONENTS OF JUNIOR MEETING PROCEDURE

Meeting Etiquette

• In order to minimize disruption, it is suggested a meeting policy be established where members are required to turn off their cell phones and place them under their chairs. Otherwise, silencing phones may still cause disruption, and texting remains enabled. A verbal reminder to turn off cell phones is encouraged at unit meetings. At the conclusion of meetings, remind members to turn on their phones.
  o You may want to send a note home to parents in order to ensure they know the cell phone policy and consequences. Together with the Junior Activities chairman, members may establish consequences for breaking cell phone rules, or honor senior unit cell phone rules and consequences.
• A dress code may be required for district and national meetings.
• Undesired talking may result from friends sitting next to each other during a meeting or activities. It is suggested that a Junior meeting last a maximum of 30 minutes to avoid boredom or loss of interest. As members become familiar with the procedures, you may wish to increase the meeting time if the business of the group is not being completed.
• More information about meeting etiquette, as well as how to formally speak during a meeting, can be found in the American Legion Auxiliary Unit Guide Book.

Standardized Program Procedure

1. Three raps of the gavel signal all to rise. One rap signals all to sit.

2. Flag courtesy and manner of salute is observed according to Flag Code, which can be found in the Appendix of the Unit Handbook.
3. The colors are placed at either side and just in advance of the honorary Junior president's station. The American flag is to be on the right of the president and the unit colors are on the left of the president.
4. When the colors are advanced, the right hand is placed over the heart and remains there until the colors are posted. When the colors are retired, the hand is removed from the heart when the American Flag is no longer in view.
5. When pledging allegiance to the flag or singing the national anthem, members should stand with the right hand over the heart. This position is held until the end of the pledge or completion of the national anthem, and then the hand is dropped to the side. Nothing should be held in the hands while reciting the pledge or singing the national anthem, unless it is a headdress held over the heart.
6. Desk flags are placed and are never advanced.

Desk colors, U.S. flags and banners are available through Emblem Sales at www.emblem.legion.org.

Order of Business

1. Call to Order
2. Prayer
3. Pledge of Allegiance (see back inside cover of this handbook)
4. National Anthem (“Star Spangled Banner,” see Appendix of this handbook)
5. Preamble (see pg. 1 of this handbook)
6. Reading and approval of minutes of previous meetings
7. Reports of officers and committees
8. Unfinished business
9. New business
10. Announcements
11. Remarks by Junior Activities chairman
12. Program

Simplified Meeting

A standardized program procedure is recommended for Junior meetings. We have provided an example of a meeting script in simplified form.

Junior President: “The meeting will now come to order.”

The Junior president gives three raps of the gavel to signal members to rise.

Junior President: “The members will salute while the colors are advanced.”

Junior President: “Our chaplain will offer prayer.”

In place of the following prayer, the chaplain may substitute one of her choosing.

Junior Chaplain: “Our Father, we thank Thee for this great country of ours, and for the sacrifice and service of our loved ones who have preserved it for us. Help us as Junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary to continue loving service to those less fortunate than us. Amen.”

Junior President: “Please join me in pledging allegiance to the flag, followed by the singing of our national anthem, ‘The Star-Spangled Banner.’”

“Let us recite the Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion Auxiliary.”

When the Preamble recitation is finished, one rap of the gavel seats the members.

Junior President: “I now declare the meeting of the Junior group of Unit number _____. Department of ________, regularly convened.”

After business session and program, the meeting should be closed in the following manner:

Junior President: “If there is no further business to come before the meeting, the chaplain will lead us in prayer.”

The president gives three raps of the gavel to signal members to rise and stand in silence.

Junior Chaplain: “Our Father, we thank Thee for the good works we have accomplished in this meeting and ask for your guidance as we continue our service to veterans, servicemembers and their families. Amen.”

Junior President: “Until we meet again, let us remember that our obligation to our country can only be fulfilled by the faithful performance of all duties of citizenship. Let service to the community, state and nation always be our objective. Let us always be watchful of our organization and ourselves, that nothing steer us from the path of justice, freedom and democracy. The color bearers will retire the colors.”

The members salute the American flag as it is retired.

Junior President: “The chair declares this meeting adjourned.”

The president gives one rap of the gavel to adjourn the meeting.
CEREMONIES

Initiation Ceremony

NOTE: The initiation officer [or distinguished guest (“DG” in the diagram below)] is the choice of the honorary Junior president. For meeting supplies, see “Unit Decor” under the “Auxiliary Accessories” section of Emblem Sales (www.emblem.legion.org).

Initiation of candidates is an important function of the officers of each unit, but it is not mandatory for membership.

An appropriate covering should be used on the unit president’s table. Four candles in uniform holders should be placed on the table. In addition, a bowl of poppies, one for each candidate, should be placed on the table, along with sufficient copies of the Auxiliary Constitution, Flag Code, small American flags, Auxiliary pins and other desired materials. Chairs should be placed in the front row for the candidates. If there are more candidates than seats in the front row on both sides of center aisle, enough room should be left in additional rows such that the sergeant-at-arms and assistant can present materials to each candidate. No formal attire or uniforms are necessary.

The ceremony is of a serious nature. Further information about the placement of officers can be found below and in the Unit Guide Book.

Initiation Ceremony Diagram
Initiation Officer: “We shall proceed with the initiation. Please remain in silence. Sergeant-at-arms, please present the Juniors for initiation.”

Music is played as the sergeant-at-arms presents the candidates for initiation.

Three raps of the gavel signal group to stand.

Initiation Officer: “The chaplain will offer prayer.”

Junior Chaplain: “Let us pray. Our Heavenly Father, we ask Thy blessing upon these members who are being received into our group. May the principles and ideals taught by the American Legion Auxiliary inspire them to become loyal, patriotic American citizens. Help them to become true leaders working for the good of the community, state and nation. Grant to them Thy loving care now and forever. Amen.”

One rap of the gavel seats group.

Initiation Officer: “The American Legion Auxiliary cherishes four great principles: justice, freedom, democracy and loyalty. They will now be explained.”

Junior Vice President: [Rises] “I light the candle of justice. Justice makes no distinction between persons, races and creeds. Justice is impartial, without anger, without malice. It is the guiding star of life and upon it rests the future of all nations.

I give you a copy of our constitution, in which you will find a practical application of the ideals of justice.”

Sergeant-at-arms and assistant distribute a poppy and a copy of the constitution to each candidate.

Junior Secretary: [Rises] “From the candle of justice, I light the candle of freedom. The flag of the United States is the emblem of freedom.”

Junior Treasurer: [Rises] “From the candle of freedom, I light the candle of democracy. Democracy is government of the people, by the people, and for the people. American democracy offers a voice in government to every citizen so that all may share in its benefits. Democracy can only exist where each person knows and accepts the responsibility of service to their community, state and nation. The Emblem of the American Legion Auxiliary is the emblem of democracy.”

Junior President: [Rises] “From the candle of democracy, I light the candle of loyalty. Loyalty is one of the first requirements of a citizen and is the cornerstone of the American Legion Auxiliary. Loyalty to God, country and self is the basis of true Americanism.

You have heard explained the four great principles of the American Legion Auxiliary. Are you willing to obligate yourself to the principles?”

Juniors: “I am.”

Three raps of the gavel signals group to rise.

Junior President: “You will raise your right hand and repeat after me, giving your name where I give mine.

‘I, ____________, do solemnly pledge to be a loyal member of the American Legion Auxiliary, to uphold and defend the constitution of the United States of America, to maintain law and order, to foster and perpetuate a one hundred percent Americanism, and to all these things I pledge myself to God and country. I am not a member of and do not subscribe to the principles of any group opposed to our form of government.’”

At the conclusion of the obligation, all lights, except those of the four candles, shall be extinguished. Silence shall be observed for 10 seconds, and soft music shall be played.
Without a cue, the chaplain shall call attention to the Emblem. This may be an emblem light, banner, pin or picture.

Junior Chaplain: “The Emblem of the American Legion Auxiliary is your badge of distinction and honor. It stands for God and country and the highest rights of mankind. It consists of several parts and each part has a meaning. The rays of the sun that form the background stand for the principles of the American Legion Auxiliary; loyalty, justice, freedom and democracy; dispelling the darkness of violence, strife and evil. The star of blue is the emblem of service in war; it is no less the emblem of service in time of peace.

The emblem of the American Legion Auxiliary is the emblem of Americanism. Americanism is the unity of love, singleness of allegiance, practicality of purpose, care of the distressed, and the education of children, all directed to the promotion of a common good. As members of this organization, we must preach and teach the principles of Americanism. Let us not forget that to each generation comes its patriotic duty and that upon your willingness to sacrifice and endure, as those before you have sacrificed and endured, rests the hope of the nation.”

Lights are turned on and one rap of the gavel seats members.

Initiation Officer: “On behalf of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of _______, I welcome you to membership in this unit. May you enjoy your association with other members of this group and always be a loyal member of the American Legion Auxiliary.”

“Sergeant-at-arms, please escort these new members to their seats.”

Junior vice president, you will work closely with the president for the success of this group. You will learn the programs and attend all meetings. Be prepared to conduct the Junior meeting in the absence of the president. The teachings of justice and freedom go with the office of vice president.

Under the guidance of your advisor, you will have the responsibility of leading the Juniors throughout the year. To you is entrusted the sacred duty of upholding the four great principles expressed in the Preamble to our Constitution: justice, freedom, democracy and loyalty.

Three raps of the gavel signal members to stand.

I congratulate this group upon the officers you have chosen. I have charged them with a serious responsibility and in turn, I charge you likewise. Will every member of this unit please stand and raise your right hand and repeat after me?

"I solemnly promise to renew my pledge of service to the American Legion Auxiliary and to give wholehearted support to these Junior officers."

Newly Installed Junior Chaplain: "Our Heavenly Father, we ask your blessing upon these newly installed officers. Guide them in their work as they lead us with ready hearts and willing hands in the programs of the American Legion Auxiliary in the path of service. As the newly installed Junior president, I present to you this gavel, your symbol of authority. May you use it wisely in the best interest of your group. I extend to you the congratulations of the senior unit and the wish for a truly successful year."

Unit President: "Will the sergeant-at-arms please escort the installing officer, retiring Junior president and newly installed Junior president to their seats?

On behalf of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit _____, Department of _________, I thank you for your service. May you enjoy your term and always be a loyal member of the American Legion Auxiliary."

The members stand in front of the table facing the officers. The sergeant-at-arms and Junior Activities Chairman step back a few steps.

“In the Junior Activities program, you have been given the opportunity to learn the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities in the American Legion Auxiliary so you may understand and participate in the unit when you become senior members. As each name is called, a candle is lit or a white flower placed in a bowl.

“The chaplain will offer prayer.”

They taught us that it is OK to cry and that we should always stand for truth.

Bless our mothers with the graces they need and which You want to give them today. Help them to feel precious in Your eyes today and to know that we love them as You love them. Give them strength and courage, compassion and peace. Bless our mothers this day with Your love. Amen.”

For all of Your blessings, we give You thanks, for we know we are all Your children. Please ask for your safety as you guide us home. Amen.”
SONGS

The Star-Spangled Banner
(National Anthem)
Oh, say can you see by the dawn’s early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight’s last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O’er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket’s red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore, dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe’s haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o’er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning’s first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines in the stream:
’Tis the star-spangled banner! Oh long may it wave
O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

Oh! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved home and the war’s desolation!

Blest with victory and peace, may the heav’n rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: “In God is our trust.”
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O’er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

America
My country, ‘tis of Thee,
Sweet Land of Liberty
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the pilgrims’ pride,
From every mountain side
Let Freedom ring.
Our fathers’ God to Thee,
Author of Liberty,
To thee we sing,
Long may our land be bright
With Freedom’s holy light,
Protect us by thy might
Great God, our King.
America the Beautiful
O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!
O beautiful for pilgrim feet
Whose stern impassioned stress
A thoroughfare of freedom beat
Across the wilderness!
America! America!
God mend thine ev'ry flaw,
Confirm thy soul in self-control,
Thy liberty in law!

This is My Country
This is my country,
Land of my birth,
This is my country, grandest on earth.
I pledge thee my allegiance,
America, the bold,
For this is my country,
To have and to hold.

God Bless the U.S.A.
If tomorrow all the things were gone
I’d worked for all my life,
And I had to start again
With just my children and my wife
I’d thank my lucky stars to be living here today,
’cause the flag still stands for freedom
And they can’t take that away.
Chorus
And I’m proud to be an American
Where at least I know I’m free
And I won’t forget the men who died
Who gave that right to me.
And I’d gladly stand up next to you
And defend her still today.
’cause there ain’t no doubt I love this land
God Bless the U.S.A.
From the lakes of Minnesota,
To the hills of Tennessee,
Across the plains of Texas
From sea to shining sea,
From Detroit down to Houston
And New York to L.A.
Well, there’s pride in every American heart, and it’s time to stand and say.
Repeat chorus
You’re a Grand Old Flag
You’re a grand old flag,
You’re a high flying flag
And forever in peace may you wave,
You’re the emblem of the land I love,
The home of the free and the brave.
Every heart beats true for the Red, White and Blue,
Where there's never a boast or brag,
Should auld acquaintance be forgot?
Keep your eye on the Grand Old Flag.

POEMS

In Flanders Fields
In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved, and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe;
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

--Lt. Col. John McCrae (1872 – 1918)
APPENDIX

JUNIOR ACTIVITIES CHAIRMAN GUIDE

Junior Activities Purpose:
To engage eligible young women (under the age of 18) in positive mission-based volunteer opportunities so that they will be inclined to continue their membership into adulthood. (Also see pages 8-9.)

Committee:
Recruit at least three senior members, preferably from your committee, to serve as helpers for different age groups. Age groups should correlate with the Patch Program age groups: kindergarten through third grade; fourth grade through eighth grade; and ninth grade through graduation to a senior member.

Committee members, or at the very least the chairman, need to be familiar with national awards, the Patch Program, and other opportunities available to Juniors. Further information can be found in the Plan of Action at www.ALAforVeterans.org.

Planning Activities:
Create a list of local Juniors who can participate in events, and invite them to a meeting using email or Facebook. When planning activities and service projects, plan one activity for each age group. For instance, if your unit is hosting a holiday party for servicemembers’ kids, elementary-aged Juniors could make cards, middle school-aged Juniors could help wrap the presents, and high school-aged Juniors could make desserts.

Keep in mind that younger children have very short attention spans and require short, varied activities and breaks for physical activity. Most Tiny Tot members will be too young to participate in focused activities. Aim for fun rather than formality in meetings.

Funding:
In nearly all units, Junior Activities does not have an operational budget, but there are many ideas of fundraising events that you can put into action to raise money. An example is hosting a food/beverage booth at a local fair. Any money raised by or for the Juniors should be kept as a separate line in the unit account(s), similar to poppy funds.

Junior Hierarchy:
Juniors are members of the Auxiliary, so their president is the ALA national president. Honorary National Junior offices carry courtesy titles bestowed by the American Legion Auxiliary. Any Honorary Junior National officer elected is solely an honorary, courtesy position without any formal recognition and with no official or formal duties. They shall not travel as a representative of the national American Legion Auxiliary or conduct fundraising for Junior election campaigns or related activities benefiting an Honorary Junior National Officer or candidate.

Emblem Use:
Used in its entirety, the Auxiliary Emblem must be encircled by a solid color without a border.
Controlled by National Headquarters, written approval from the national secretary is needed to put the emblem on an item to be manufactured, unless purchased from Emblem Sales who holds the copyright. Contact your department secretary for more information on this approval process. These restrictions apply equally to the Emblems of The American Legion, the Sons of The American Legion, and American Legion Riders. For more information, visit: www.legion.org/emblem.

Contact:
Looking for more ideas? Contact your district, county, department and then division chairman. Email the national chairman at JuniorActivities@ALAforVeterans.org.

Additional Resources:
For more information, connect on Facebook (www.facebook.com/alajuniors), and check out the Unit Guide Book, Junior Activities Handbook, and the Plan of Action with its related “How-To” sheets. Juniors are encouraged to implement aspects from all of the Auxiliary’s programs into their projects throughout the year.

HOW TO SERVE VETERANS AND MILITARY FAMILIES AS A JUNIOR MEMBER

Ever wonder how you can make a difference as a Junior member? Look no further. Listed below are some ideas for how to help veterans and military families. Some of these activities may help you receive patches in the Junior Patch Program. Check with your patch program level sheet.

Show new military children around your school.

- Contact a guidance counselor at school and tell them you are a member of the American Legion Auxiliary. Explain that we are the largest women’s patriotic service organization in the world and that our mission is helping veterans, military and their families. Tell them you would like to assist in showing new military children around the school and help them if they have a question.

Help military children understand.

- Ask a guidance counselor to help you gather students who would be interested in helping students who have parents serving in the military. Host a meeting where you explain the volunteer work that you do and how much you admire the sacrifices of our military heroes. It is not only the military servicemembers who serve, but their families too. Ask the students you gathered to help you reach out to students who may be missing a parent or worried about a deployed parent. Some things to look for: kids who dress with any camouflage or have flags/yellow ribbons on lockers, backpacks or the car that drops them off at school. Ask the guidance counselor to help you give some tips on what to say and what not to say when approaching these kids.

Write thank-you letters.

- Contact a nursing home or veterans home near your unit, and ask how many veterans live there. Then, get other Juniors in your unit or friends together and write thank-you letters to them. Be sure to tell how much you appreciate their service and sacrifice they gave to our country. You can even include drawings of flags or a picture of poppies.

Organize poppy making

- Find out who is in charge of poppies for your unit and ask them to contact the department poppy chairman on your behalf. Ask if they are need new veteran poppy makers. Brainstorm with members in your unit on how to locate new poppy makers. Then, contact those places to see if you can go to meet with veterans who might be interested in earning a bit of income making poppies. Bring some materials so you can demonstrate how poppies are made, and familiarize yourself with the rules about poppy distribution ahead of time.

Become a student volunteer at your local Veterans Affairs Volunteer Service.

- Ask for permission from your parent or guardian to become a student volunteer at a veterans hospital or VA facility in your area. Contact your local Veterans Affairs Volunteer Service by going to this link www.volunteer.va.gov/StudentProgram.asp to find instructions for applying.

Participate in the Veterans History Project (Juniors 10th grade and above).

- Capture a piece of history by interviewing a veteran in your community. Follow the link www.loc.gov/vets/ to find out how you can participate. You can also search through the veteran’s collection to learn more about articles that have been put into the data base already.

Collect items for the Give 10 to Education project.

- With other Juniors in your unit or with friends, collect items for students in your school who have a parent in the military or National Guard. Ask your teacher or school counselor how to get the items to the students.

Talk to your high school counselor about scholarship opportunities.

- Contact your high school guidance counselor; explain that you are involved with the American Legion Auxiliary. Give them information about the Auxiliary’s scholarship opportunities. Information about scholarships awarded by National Headquarters can be found at www(ALAforVeterans.org. Gather information from your local unit as well to take to your counselor.

Help with events going on in your local American Legion Family.

- If you know of events that will be taking place, contact the person in charge and ask if you can help in some way. You may be able to help set up before a dinner or event.

HOW TO INCORPORATE MISSION-RELATED PROJECTS INTO JUNIOR ACTIVITIES

In an effort to instill a commitment to volunteerism and awareness of the mission of the American Legion Auxiliary, each department is encouraged to incorporate mission-focused projects into their Junior Activities — the focus being veterans, military and their families.

POPPY WREATHS:

Take this opportunity to briefly teach the girls about the poppy’s rich history. Explain how the assembly of poppies is used as therapy for the veterans, with all monies collected going directly to military servicemembers, veterans and their families.

Have the girls create a poppy wreath to be publicly displayed. One location to lay the wreath may be a veterans’ memorial (often located near a statehouse). The wreath can also be displayed at the statehouse or other government building (ask for official approval).

What you will need:

- Floral wreath form. Depending on the number of participants, consider making more than one wreath (i.e., one for veterans and one for current servicemembers).
- Wreath stand (not necessary if the wreath will be hanging).
- One poppy for each Junior member and senior member at meeting.
Reach out to units in your department for poppies from previous years, which can only be used for decoration purposes.

- The same number of floral picks as poppies.

How to:

- Before the session begins, remove the American Legion Auxiliary labels from the poppies and wrap the wire stem around the floral picks.
- Place the empty wreath in a central location. Give each girl and senior member a wrapped poppy. Let each girl place her fluffed poppy into the wreath.
- Decide if you want this to be a solemn event, in which the girls are asked to remain quiet while placing their poppies. Have them keep in mind a veteran or servicemember as they place their poppies.
- Have one or two Junior Members (per wreath) place the wreath(s) on a veterans’ memorial or on display at the city hall or statehouse. This job can be tied to a specific job title or just to citizens who volunteer to place a wreath.

MAIL FOR VETERANS:

Some veterans in the VA system and servicemembers abroad do not receive mail frequently. Taking the time to write them a note is a quick way to let them know that we are grateful for their service and support them.

What you will need:

- Paper and pen/pencil. Decide the approximate length of the letter you want the girls to write. In the case of a short letter, a postcard might be best. The girls will be able to write more letters/postcards if they are brief.
- For security reasons, it is best not to put the letters in individual envelopes when sending letters to servicemembers abroad.

How to:

- Provide the girls with their paper/postcards. For a more heartfelt letter, consider distributing the materials to the girls at the beginning of session and collecting them at the end. Then, they can write the letter at their leisure.
- Allow the girls to decorate the note, but avoid the use of glitter.

Tips when writing servicemembers:

- For writing currently military members, address the reader as “Dear Servicemember” or “Dear American Hero” (“soldier” indicates service in the Army, which may not be the military branch under which they are serving). If sending the letters to a VA facility, the recipient can be addressed “Dear Veteran”.

In the spirit of service, not self, the mission of the American Legion Auxiliary is to support The American Legion and to honor the sacrifice of those who serve by enhancing the lives of our veterans, military, and their families, both at home and abroad. For God and Country, we advocate for veterans, educate our citizens, mentor youth, and promote patriotism, good citizenship, peace and security.

In fulfillment of our mission, the American Legion Auxiliary adheres to the following purposes:

★ To support and advocate for veterans, active military and their families
★ To support the initiatives and programs of The American Legion
★ To foster patriotism and responsible citizenship
★ To award scholarships and promote quality education and literacy
★ To provide educational and leadership opportunities that uphold the ideals of freedom and democracy and encourage good citizenship and patriotism in government
★ To increase our capacity to deliver our Mission by providing meaningful volunteer opportunities within our communities
★ To empower our membership to achieve personal fulfillment through “service not self”

The American Legion Auxiliary does not establish any policy that conflicts with those of The American Legion. Its activities are designed to enhance The American Legion’s programs. Although often working independently on projects of its own, the Auxiliary has no purposes which are apart from the aims of The American Legion. It is in every sense an “Auxiliary” to The American Legion. Its members serve side-by-side with members of The American Legion in a spirit of unselfish devotion to the well-being of America.

The Pledge of Allegiance

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.
